

Is Now Good?

Emotion-centric Decision Guide for Carriers (when to introduce?) of Requirements Changes* and Software Practitioners (when to accept?)

*Introducing requirements changes frequently is not recommended.

This guide is only for deciding when to introduce/accept a requirements change to/by the software development team. The decision on when to develop the requirements change requires to be taken afterward.

RC: Requirements Change; Development team having high pleasurable emotions; low pleasurable emotions